

Meet Caitlin

Thank you for taking the time to learn about me. I hope that as you read my story, you feel a sense of warmth, comfort, and peace as you consider the future of your child. I hold deep respect for the strength and love it takes to explore adoption, and I am truly honored that you are getting to know me.

From a young age, my greatest dream has always been to become a mother, to build a meaningful life, and to create a home filled with love, laughter, and stability. While life has led me down a different path than I once imagined, my desire to nurture and raise a child has never wavered. Becoming a mother through adoption feels like a beautiful and meant-to-be journey.

Family is at the center of my life. I am incredibly close with my parents and my three brothers, and we spend a great deal of time together whether it's at family dinners, vacations, holidays, school events, and cheering on the kids at their activities. I have had the joy of helping raise my nieces and nephew, who live nearby, and being part of their everyday lives has shown me just how much love a child can bring into a family. They are of mixed race and are thriving in our supportive, diverse community, which is something I deeply value.

Professionally, I am a dance studio owner and director, a role I have devoted my heart to for over twenty years. My mother and I run the studio together, creating a nurturing environment where students of all ages discover confidence, discipline, creativity, and joy. Supporting young people as they grow into themselves is one of the most meaningful parts of my life. My career also offers flexibility and stability, allowing me to prioritize family and be fully present for a child.

I am surrounded by an incredible support system of family, friends, colleagues, and mentors who are loving, dependable, and excited to welcome a child into our lives. A child that will grow up with many caring adults who will show up for them, celebrate them, and help them thrive.

I live in a wonderful, welcoming town with excellent schools, parks, and community programs. My home is close to the local school, and I often walk past it with my dog, imagining the day I will walk a child there as well. It is a safe, vibrant community where children are encouraged to explore, learn, and simply enjoy being kids.

If I am given the honor of parenting your child, I promise to provide a home filled with unconditional love, security, structure, and encouragement. I will support their dreams, celebrate their uniqueness, and help them grow into the person they are meant to be. I am deeply committed to honoring a child's cultural background and identity through representation, education, community connections, and meaningful relationships with role models.

I also deeply respect openness in adoption. I am open to maintaining whatever level of contact feels right for you. This may include updates, photos, letters, or ongoing communication. Most importantly, I want your child to always know how deeply loved they are by you and that your decision was made with tremendous courage and care. Thank you again for taking the time to read my story. I cannot fully understand the weight of the decisions you are facing, but I hold you in my heart with compassion and admiration. I feel profound gratitude to be on this path toward motherhood through adoption. My hope is to share a lifetime of love, stability, laughter, and belonging with a child.

With warmth and respect,
Caitlin
